

The Surveyors Registration Ordinance 1991 provides for a registration system for professional surveyors whereby those qualified and registered may be entitled Registered Professional Surveyors or designated RPS.

The Ordinance is designed to establish the registered status of the various divisions of surveyors and at the same time safeguard the rights of the consumer public.

Registration is open to a professional surveyor:

- (i) who is a corporate member of The Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors; or
- (ii) who is a corporate member of one of the following institutions, the membership of which is currently accepted by the Surveyors Registration Board as being of a standard not less than that of The Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors:
 - Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors
 - Australian Property Institute
 - New Zealand Property Institute; or
- (iii) who has passed such examination in surveying and other subjects and has received such training and experience as the Board may accept, either generally or in a particular case, as a qualification of a standard not less than that of a member of The Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors; and
- (iv) who has satisfied the Surveyors Registration Board that he has had one year's relevant professional experience in Hong Kong before the date of his application for registration; and
- (v) who is ordinarily resident in Hong Kong; and
- (vi) who is not the subject of an inquiry committee or a disciplinary order under Part IV of the Surveyors Registration Ordinance 1991 which precludes him from being registered under the Ordinance; and
- (vii) who satisfies the Board by declaration in writing that he is competent to practise in the relevant division; and
- (viii) who is a fit and proper person to be registered.
